

Saint Joseph High School
Students Selected as Semi-Finalists for
The New Jersey Scholars Program

The Administration of Saint Joseph High School is proud to announce that junior students Sarah Bariglio and Nathan Otto have been selected as semifinalists for this summer's New Jersey Scholars Program, Human Rights: Past, Present, Future and are invited to The Lawrenceville School campus on Saturday, March 27th for a tour and interview.

The mission of the New Jersey Scholars Program is to reach out to 39 able and enthusiastic residents of New Jersey who are rising seniors and who come from a broad socio-economic, ethnic and racial cross-section of the state's population. The Program creates an intense, interdisciplinary intellectual experience that will change their lives – to awaken in them the awareness of their potential to achieve academic excellence.

According to Mrs. Domenico, "the Administration and Faculty are very proud of Sarah and Nathan who have been selected as semifinalists for The New Jersey Scholars Program. Their fine academic record is evident by the hard work and diligence they demonstrate in and out of the classroom and they are to be commended. We offer our best wishes for continued success."
